KNIGHT & CARVER BOLSTERS SALES & MARKETING TEAM THREE STAFF ADDITIONS JOIN GROWING WIND BLADE FIRM

NATIONAL CITY, CALIFORNIA – Knight & Carver Wind Group has announced the addition of two new Sales Account Executive and a Sales/Marketing Coordinator to its sales and marketing team.

Joining Knight & Carver, an industry leader in wind blade fabrication, repair and service, are:

- Phillip Winter, Sales Account Executive: Formerly an executive in the telecom, passenger vessel and mineral exploration industries, Winter will be responsible for all Operations and Maintenance sales with Knight & Carver Wind Group. He brings 14 years of experience working with fiberglass composite construction, including a role as compound manager for an America's Cup sailing syndicate. Winter holds a BS (biology) degree from the University of California at Santa Cruz.
- Jason Shelby, Sales Account Executive: Shelby brings a successful sales background in audiology sales, as well as in real estate, travel and hospitality while residing in his native Missouri and more recently in San Diego. Shelby will be responsible for all new-blade sales for the Wind Group. A certified Real Estate appraiser, he earned a BS (Parks, Recreation & Tourism) from the University of Missouri.
- Howard Tu, Sales/Marketing Coordinator: A recent graduate of San Diego State University (BS in Business Administration and Integrated Marketing Communications), Tu was one of 10 recipients of the school's President's Award for a campus-wide marketing research symposium. He's also a former world-class badminton player who competed internationally for the U.S. National team at ages 16-19.

"We're pleased to welcome these talented individuals to our growing team," said Gary Kanaby, Vice President Sales of Knight & Carver Wind Group. "Their enthusiasm, energy and innovative ideas fit with our goal of evolving with the ever-changing industry."
